DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Invention I, Species a) in the reply filed on 8 April 2004 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 69, 70 - 80, 84, 88 - 90, 108 and 109 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 8 April 2004. Although Applicant listed claims 70, 72, 108, and 109 as being part of the elected species, upon review they appear to not belong to species a). In particular, claims 70 and 72 relate to non-elected species b). Claims 108 and 109 relate to a reference sample with a different primary optical absorber when compared to the measurement sample whereas the elected species has the same primary optical absorber (see elected claim 54).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000.

Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1 - 33 and 54 - 59 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cohenford et al. Cohenford et al. teach a method for detection of cellular abnormalities that includes comparison of sample and reference cells (of known properties) to determine chemical differences present in the sample cells (see column 3, lines 28 - 65). General details and considerations for the reference cells are discussed in column 7, line 10 - column 8, line 32. Details of preparation of the reference cells are provided in column 11, line 21 - column 12, line 2.

5. Claims 34 - 40, 60 - 65, 68, 69, 81 - 83, 85 - 87, 103 - 107, 110, 111, and 113 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fellows. Figure 2 and the description thereof disclose a calibration standard constructed with selective transmission and reflection characteristics that can be used to model wavelengths of interest.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 66, 67, and 112 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
